Redding Reloading Equipment Adds Dies for the 6.5 GAP 4S

Cortland, NY..... With the renewed interest in this great cartridge, Redding Reloading Equipment is offering a variety of die sets for the 6.5 GAP 4S in 2018.

Derived from the 7MM RSAUM the 6.5 GAP 4S has proven its capabilities with long barrel life, high velocities and excellent accuracy. The cartridge is at home as either a long range hunting or target cartridge and continues to grow in popularity, especially now that factory brass has become available. A wide range of high BC bullet offerings have also extended the performance envelop of this unique cartridge.

Early in the cartridge development, the originator GA Precision, contacted Redding to produce custom dies for their use and distribution. The firm has since allowed Redding to produce a range of dies for the broad market at large. For 2018 Redding offers Standard, Type –S and Competition Dies and Sets for this cartridge. It can be formed from both 300 and 7mm SAUM brass and now factory cases have also become available as well. It is a unique, high performance cartridge completely at home in Short Actions making it ideal for long range hunting where a lighter rifle is preferred. Of course, it earned its reputation as an excellent long range precision rifle cartridge with a mild recoil profile and excellent barrel life.

Whatever the requirement, Redding has the dies and sets for virtually any handloading need when it comes to the 6.5 GAP 4S also known as the 6.5 SAUM.
